The Stinemetz Girl Suggests

OUR "Stinemetz Girl" thinks that the weather should be sufficient warning without further suggestion from her, but she says, "You'd be surprised at the number of people who never think of their furs until they see the first snow falling."

Repairing and remodeling work should be brought to us at once. We can only do so much before the furs become a necessity, for there's a limit to the capacity of even our big workrooms.

You'll want us to do your work because we can show you styles far in advance of the ordinary establishment. In remodeling we can copy garments which have been adopted for coming seasons.

We want to serve you promptly and satisfactorily, but we must have your cooperation. If you would guard against disappointment let us have your work at once.
